HOUSE TAKES

UNFAVORABLE ACTION. Measure of Uncas Power Company Attacked by Several Members-Heavy

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Hartford, July 7.—The Uncas Power company, whose resolution was supposed to have been so fixed up now that only John Cuddy would be the sufferer by its passage, and no one was believed to care much about him, received a jolt in the house today when that body refused to pass the bill carrying amendments to its charter and turned down the favorable report of the committee on incorporations by a heavy vote.

Lendon county not now occupied by a power company actually doing business and sell its power. All of the objecting interests, the East Lyme Power company and Crescent Beach company, the Willimantic and other interests on the Shatucket since above

Scotland—all these had been taken care of and everything was supposed to have been smoothed out.

When the bill came up in the house this afternoon, however, Mayor Dunn of Willimantic made a savage attack on it and on the on it and on the company, and this was followed up by Judge Tingier of Rockville, a member of the committee, who, while a democrat, is very highly regarded in the house.

"There is not a single bit of good faith in this matter," said Judge Tingier. "The company failed to publish notice of its real intentions in the first place and has been endeavoring to deceive ever since; a triple effort at deceit; first, to deceive the committee, then to deceive these manufactee, then to deceive these manufac-turers on the Shetucket watershed above them, then to deceive the general assembly.

The cards have been dealt from the ottom of the pack. All this Uneas Power company wants is to take this land and water power and axe-handle factory of this man Cuddy's without paying him his price for it. They haven't tried to buy it, even, but have gone into court to tie it up and then won't come in and try the case, but come to the general assembly and try to get matters fixed so they can take it away under semblance of something clse. It's a crooked game all the way through."

He was followed by Representative Hall of Willington, who protested against passing a measure in which, as it had been stated, certain interests had been protected, but concerning which nobody knew how many other interests might still be unaware of how they are affected. Mr. Hall believed that the whole affar had been covered up and kept from public view from the beginning and that it was up to the general assembly to protect the whole people of the state. uch thing, and not four or five manafacturers who happen to be more wide awake at the moment than oth-

Mr. Hall said that there would be no difficulty in this Uncas Power company getting all the land for its pole lines and other construction that it ought to have without the right of eminent domain and at reasonable prices, and described how he had aided its agent in acquiring rights of way in his town and adjoining towns.

Mayor Dunn made another attack on the bill before Chairman Parker of the committee had a chance to come to its defense, and when he did get an opportunity to talk there wasn't so much left for him to say. His motion that the bill be passed was lost by an overwhelming vote. Mr. Hall said that there would be

MILLION DOLLAR BANK.

By Consolidation Bridgeport Will Have Banking House to Loan $100,-000 to Single Borrower.

Bridgeport is to have a million sollar bank by the proposed consolidation of the First National bank of Bridgeport and the Bridgeport National bank. The formal merging will be voted at meetings of the stockholders and directors July 15.

Under the laws governing national banks it will be possible for the new bank to loan $100,000 to a single borrower and this will be a great help to local manufacturers.

Reader's Faithful Friends. Tradition is but a meteor, which if it once falls, cannot be rekindled. Memory, once interrupted, is not to be recalled. But written learning is a fixed luminary, which, after the cloud that had hidden it has passed away. is again bright in its proper station. So the books are faithful repositories, which may be awhile neglected or forgotten, but when opened again, will again impart instruction.-Dr. John-

The men who have achieved success are the men who have worked, read, thought more than was absolutely nec essary, who have not been content with knowledge sufficient for the present need, but who have sought additional knowledge and stored it away for the emergency reserve. It is the superfluous labor that equips a man for severything that counts most in life.-The Late Senator Cushman K.

Favorite of American Readers. There are a few old American favor ites not fiction that in any consider able span of years outsell the new novels. One of these is Thoreau's "Walden." In the last 40 years it has outsold most of the new nature books, and its popularity is increasing year by year. "Walden" indeed keeps alive the interest in several of Thoreau's less popular books.
